

HENNEPIN THEATRE TRUST

Detours

Made Here, a project of Hennepin Theatre Trust, is a walkable urban art experience that connects people to local art and artists along Hennepin Avenue in downtown Minneapolis.

It's also about possibilities.

The project has grown from visual displays in windows to large scale banners on building sides, pop up galleries and more. In every instance, the intent is to infuse underused public spaces with art and art-inspired experiences – and transform them with the spirit of what is possible.

We are proud to present this winter run of Detours: Made Here and hope you will enjoy this surprising and delightful urban walkable gallery experience.
